If someone is using the space, remind them: “You’re in a safe space now. I can help you find the right next steps.”

Next, you can say, “There are a few questions I’m going to ask you.”

1. Have you experienced a bias or hate crime?

I can call 911 for you to help you report a crime to the Dublin Police. An officer will be here shortly.

2. Do you feel threatened or intimidated?

I can call 911 to help you file a police report. I can also connect you with the right people who will be able to help.

3. Are you in a personal crisis and need help?

We can find you mental health resources for right now or for the future. Can I call a police officer to help?

“You don’t have to speak to the police, but I encourage you to report threats or anything criminal to Dublin Police.”
